HOW TO CITE RULES AND RSMo

RULES—Cite material in the Missouri Register by volume and page number, for example, Vol. 26, Missouri Register, page 27. The approved short form of citation is 26 MoReg 27.

The rules are codified in the Code of State Regulations in this system—

TitleCode of State RegulationsDivisionChapterRule1CSR10-1.010DepartmentAgency, DivisionGeneral area regulatedSpecific area regulated

They are properly cited by using the full citation, i.e., 1 CSR 10-1.010.

Each department of state government is assigned a title. Each agency or division in the department is assigned a division number. The agency then groups its rules into general subject matter areas called chapters and specific areas called rules. Within a rule, the first breakdown is called a section and is designated as (1). Subsection is (A) with further breakdown into paragraph 1., subparagraph A., part (I), subpart (a), item I. and subitem a.

RSMo—Cite material in the RSMo by date of legislative action. The note in parentheses gives the original and amended legislative history. The Office of the Revisor of Statutes recognizes that this practice gives users a concise legislative history.

ules appearing under this heading are filed under the authority granted by section 536.025, RSMo 2000. An emergency rule may be adopted by an agency if the agency finds that an immediate danger to the public health, safety or welfare, or a compelling governmental interest requires emergency action; follows procedures best calculated to assure fairness to all interested persons and parties under the circumstances; follows procedures which comply with the protections extended by the Missouri and the United States Constitutions; limits the scope of such rule to the circumstances creating an emergency and requiring emergency procedure, and at the time of or prior to the adoption of such rule files with the secretary of state the text of the rule together with the specific facts, reasons and findings which support its conclusion that there is an immediate danger to the public health, safety or welfare which can be met only through the adoption of such rule and its reasons for concluding that the procedure employed is fair to all interested persons and parties under the circumstances.

ules filed as emergency rules may be effective not less than ten (10) days after filing or at such later date as may be specified in the rule and may be terminated at any time by the state agency by filing an order with the secretary of state fixing the date of such termination, which order shall be published by the secretary of state in the Missouri Register as soon as practicable.

Il emergency rules must state the period during which they are in effect, and in no case can they be in effect more than one hundred eighty (180) calendar days or thirty (30) legislative days, whichever period is longer. Emergency rules are not renewable, although an agency may at any time adopt an identical rule under the normal rulemaking procedures.

Title 11—DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY Division 50—Missouri State Highway Patrol Chapter 2—Motor Vehicle Inspection Division

EMERGENCY AMENDMENT

11 CSR 50-2.430 Verification of Homemade Trailers. The division proposes to amend subsection (6)(A), delete subsection (6)(B) and amend and renumber subsection (6)(C).

PURPOSE: This amendment deletes the requirement to issue an inspection decal upon completing a trailer verification.

EMERGENCY STATEMENT: This emergency amendment is necessary and justified as meeting a compelling governmental interest. The Department of Revenue initiated a statutorily required online registration process last year. At a meeting with revenue officials on February 20, 2003, it was determined that it would be possible to fraudulently register a motorcycle using the MVI-2 form number and a decal number which were required through a trailer verification. The elimination of the decal requirement should assure this fraudulent situation cannot occur. A proposed amendment to the rule covering this same material is published in this issue of the Missouri Register. The scope of this emergency amendment is limited to the circumstances creating the emergency and complies with the protections extended in the Missouri and United States Constitutions. The patrol believes this emergency amendment is fair to all interested persons and parties under the circumstances. This emergency amendment was filed March 17, 2003, effective March 27, 2003, and expires September 22, 2003.

(6) Forms Procedure.

(A) List the trailer owner's name, street, city and county in the appropriate spaces on the MVI-2 form (see 11 CSR 50-2.120). If the trailer is determined to be homemade write the word "Homemade" in the space for make, cross through the space for year and vehicle identification number (VIN). Either write the words "Trailer Verification" in large letters across the form in the space for defective part or check the applicable box on the MVI-2 form and enter "NONE" in the space for the sticker/decal number. [Complete the MVI-2 form in the normal manner.]

[(B) Issue a trailer decal for the trailer listing the decal number in the appropriate space on the MVI-2 form. In addition to punching the decal for the month and year, also punch the decal through the words "Safety Inspected" to indicate the decal has been issued for a trailer verification. Immediately affix the decal to the trailer near the left front or on the left side of the trailer tongue.]

<code>[(C)]</code> (B) If the trailer is determined to be one made by a regular manufacturer, list the trailer make and VIN in the appropriate space on the MVI-2 form. Fill in the year of the trailer, if known. <code>[Issue a decal for the trailer as indicated in subsection (6)(B).]</code> If a Department of Revenue special number has been previously issued for the trailer, list the number on the MVI-2 form in the space for Defective Part.

[(D)] (C) If a trailer is examined and it appears to be a trailer made by a regular manufacturer, but the inspector/mechanic is unable to locate the trailer name, identification number, or both, contact the Missouri State Highway Patrol. In these cases, the inspector/mechanic shall record the vehicle identification number on the form as "unknown." If the make of the manufactured trailer cannot be determined, the inspector shall record the make as "umfg" or "unknown" on the inspection certificate.

AUTHORITY: section 307.360, RSMo [1994] 2000. Emergency rule filed Aug. 15, 1984, effective Sept. 1, 1984, expired Dec. 30, 1984. Original rule filed Sept. 12, 1984, effective Jan. 1, 1985. For intervening history, please consult the Code of State Regulations. Emergency amendment filed March 17, 2003, effective March 27, 2003, expires Sept. 22, 2003. A proposed amendment covering this same material is published in this issue of the Missouri Register.

Title 11—DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY Division 50—Missouri State Highway Patrol Chapter 2—Motor Vehicle Inspection Division

EMERGENCY AMENDMENT

11 CSR 50-2.440 Vehicle Identification Number and Odometer Reading Verification. The division proposes to amend subsection (6)(A), delete subsections (6)(B) and (6)(C) and amend and renumber subsection (6)(D).

PURPOSE: This amendment deletes the requirement to issue an inspection sticker or decal when completing a vehicle identification number and odometer reading verification.

EMERGENCY STATEMENT: This emergency amendment is necessary and justified as meeting a compelling governmental interest. The Department of Revenue initiated a statutorily required online registration process last year. At a meeting held with revenue officials on February 20, 2003, it was determined that it would be possible to fraudulently register a motor vehicle using the MVI-2 form number and sticker or decal number which were required through a vehicle identification and odometer reading verification. The elimination of the sticker/decal requirement should assure this fraudulent situation cannot occur. Immediate action regarding this action is necessary to assure this potentially fraudulent situation is averted at the earliest possible time. A proposed amendment to the rule covering this same material is published in this issue of the Missouri Register. The scope of this emergency amendment is limited to the circumstances creating the emergency and complies with the protections extended in the Missouri and United States Constitutions. The patrol believes this emergency amendment is fair to all interested persons and parties under the circumstances. This emergency amendment was filed March 17, 2003, effective March 27, 2003, and expires September 22, 2003.

(6) Forms Procedure.

(A) List the motor vehicle owner's name, street, city and county in the appropriate spaces on the MVI-2 form (see 11 CSR 50-2.120). If the VIN and odometer reading are correctly displayed, either write the words "ID/OD Verification" in large letters across the form in the space for defective part or check the applicable box on the MVI-2 form and enter "NONE" in the space for the sticker/decal number. [Complete the MVI-2 form in the normal manner.]

[(B) Issue an inspection sticker for a passenger vehicle listing the sticker number in the appropriate space on the approval certificate. In addition to punching the sticker for the month and year also punch the sticker through the words "Safety Inspected" to indicate the sticker has been issued for a VIN/odometer verification. Immediately affix the sticker to the inside of the lower left-hand corner of the windshield.

(C) Issue an inspection decal for a motorcycle or a vehicle without a windshield listing the decal number in the appropriate space on the approval certificate. In addition to punching the decal for the month and year, also punch the decal through the words "Safety Inspected" to indicate the decal has been issued for a VIN/odometer verification. When a decal is issued for a motorcycle, it will be immediately affixed in an upright position on the left side of the steering fork sleeve at a visible location near the slider tube. On motor vehicles not equipped with a windshield, the inspector/mechanic will immediately affix the decal to the vehicle's dash or steering column. Previous years' decals do not have to be removed.]

[(D)] (B) If the VIN appears to be incorrectly displayed in any manner, such as altered, forged, incorrectly attached or a substitute plate used, do not issue a verification, [approval or inspection sticker,] instead call the patrol headquarters located in your area for immediate assistance.

Title 4—DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Division 232—Missouri State Committee of Interpreters Chapter 3—Ethical Rules of Conduct

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the Missouri State Committee of Interpreters under sections 209.328.1, RSMo 2000 and 209.334, RSMo Supp. 2002, the board amends a rule as follows:

4 CSR 232-3.010 is amended.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed amendment was published in the Missouri Register on December 16, 2002 (27 MoReg 2269). Changes have been made to the text of the proposed amendment, and are reprinted here. This proposed amendment becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: Two (2) comments were received.

COMMENT: The Missouri Hospital Association (MHA) noted section 209.321, RSMo an individual must be licensed to be an interpreter and pursuant to section 209.337, RSMo it is a class A misdemeanor to engage in interpreting without a license. With the proposed amendment interpreters are not permitted to interpret in a setting beyond their certification level as provided in 5 CSR 100-200.170. A violation of these ethical rules constitutes unprofessional behavior and is grounds for disciplinary action by the Missouri State Committee of Interpreters. Additionally, 5 CSR 100-200.170 mandates a licensed interpreter to have comprehensive certification in order to interpret in a hospital with respect to serious medical conditions such as those that occur in emergency rooms, obstetrics, psychiatric units and with complicated surgery and medical procedures. For non-threatening conditions in a hospital, an interpreter needs to be certified at either the comprehensive or advanced levels of certification. MHA noted that there are only one hundred seventy-two (172) interpreters certified in Missouri at the comprehensive or advanced levels and only one hundred thirty-one (131) are located in state. Of these only seventy-six (76) are certified at the comprehensive level, the level most needed in hospitals. Only nineteen (19) counties and St. Louis City have interpreters at those levels. There are sixty-three (63) in the St. Louis area, twenty-eight (28) in the Kansas City area, twenty-one (21) in the central Missouri area and nine (9) in the Springfield area, and ten (10) advanced or comprehensive interpreters that serve the remaining one hundred four (104) counties. MHA stated that is would be difficult, if not impossible, for hospitals and other health care providers to find interpreters at the advanced or comprehensive levels, particularly since one hundred four (104) counties in Missouri must share ten (10) interpreters. Given the thousands of inpatient and outpatient hospital visits in addition to the tens of thousands of office visits each year, this in an untenable situation. Interpreters certified at the comprehensive level would also have to meet the needs of admitted patients and the tens of thousands of deaf patients who make office visits to all types of health care providers each year in addition to meeting the needs of clients in the legal and governmental settings. MHA suggested that section (3) be deleted until such time as there are enough interpreters at the advanced and comprehensive levels to meet the estimated demands for services or lower the level of certification required for all health care settings so that there will be a sufficient number of interpreters to meet the need.

RESPONSE: In order to protect the health, welfare and safety of the public, the committee did not concur with the comments submitted, therefore, no changes were made to the text of the rule.

COMMENT: During their review of the proposed amendment, the committee noted in the newly numbered section (18) the reference to (4)(A) should be changed to (6)(A).

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: The reference to (4)(A) was changed to (6)(A).

4 CSR 232-3.010 General Principles

(18) An interpreter shall maintain an appearance that does not interfere with the message as defined in 4 CSR 232-3.010(6)(A).

Title 11—DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY Division 40—Division of Fire Safety Chapter 2—Boiler and Pressure Vessel Safety Rules

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the Division of Fire Safety under section 650.215, RSMo 2000, the division adopts a rule as follows:

11 CSR 40-2.010 is adopted.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed rule was published in the Missouri Register on November 1, 2002 (27 MoReg 1953–1954). Those sections with changes are reprinted here. This proposed rule becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: The Division of Fire Safety received eight (8) comments on the proposed rule.

COMMENT: Mitchel Whisman with Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company believes the intent of defining a special inspector, section (35) is to include both the insurance company inspectors and owner/user inspectors, however, believes the rule text is incomplete.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Section (35) will be changed to clarify the definition of a special inspector.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated believes it is more appropriate to state in the second line of the definition for internal inspection, subsection (9)(A) to be ". . . including pressure sides, and . . ." rather than ". . . including water side, and . . ." RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Subsection (9)(A) will be changed to include "wetted surfaces" in an internal inspection.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated requests to add "after November 12, 1996" to the definition for reinstalled boiler, section (32).

RESPONSE: Section (32) will be left as is. The comment is not relevant to the definition.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated suggests section (25) National Board Inspection Code (NBIC) is not a definition and is covered in proposed rule 11 CSR 40-2.015. Mr. Peetz suggests section (25) should define the NBIC as follows: "NBIC-National Board Inspection Code.

RESPONSE: Section (25) will be left as is to be consistent with the language in the rules.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated indicates that section (31) defining pressure vessel has been revised to include what is commonly referred to as a boiler. Mr. Peetz suggests the following be added to the end of the definition: "and which does not mean the definition of a boiler."

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Section (31) will be changed by adding the text "The pressure may be obtained from an external source or by the application of heat from a direct or indirect source, or any combination thereof." This addition is consistent with the ASME code, Section 8 although differs slightly from the statutory definition.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated believes text is missing in section (35) definition of special inspector. Mr. Peetz advised that if the intent is to include owner/user inspectors the proposed text does not reflect this. Mr. Peetz suggests the last part of the sentence be revised by adding a comma after "state" and deleting everything after "vessel" in the next to the last line. The last line would then read: ". . .to insure in this state, boilers and pressure vessels."

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Section (35) will be changed to clarify the definition of a special inspector.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated believes section (37), definition for state special needs editing and suggests the second line read as follows: "... construction, or which is designed and constructed to other than the ASME code, and which is not inconsistent..."

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Section (37) will be changed to clarify the definition of a state special.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated believes clarification is needed as to the Board's intent in section (40), defining water heater. Mr. Peetz suggests the following be added after the word heater in the third line: ". . . and its associated piping" RESPONSE: Section (40) will be left as is. The definition complies with the ASME rules.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Section (1) will be changed to reflect the correct rule, 11 CSR 40-2.065.

COMMENT: Mitchel Whisman with Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company indicates subsection (2)(H) appears to limit inspectors to being employed by an insurance company or owner/user agency, however, no rule specifies employment is required, but the safety act does require specific employment requirements. Mr. Whisman believes the rules and regulations should require the same.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Subsection (2)(A) will be changed to reflect employment requirements in conjunction with subsection (2)(H).

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Section (1) will be changed to reflect the correct rule, 11 CSR 40-2.065.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated suggests a text change in subsection (2)(A) due to it being impossible to place the tag or stamping close to the drum stamping on some objects and there is no place to locate a tag. Mr. Peetz requests the following text be revised for the second to the last sentence to read: "The tag or stamping shall be placed at a readily visible location, preferably close to the ASME nameplate or stamping on the object."

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Subsection (2)(A) will be changed to address the tag or stamping location.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated indicates subsection (3)(A) is confusing with the term "high pressure." Mr. Peetz suggests the first part of the paragraph should read: "Power boilers shall receive a certificate"

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Subsection (3)(A) will be changed to eliminate the confusion as indicated.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated suggests paragraph (3)(C)2. be amended as follows: ". . . at least weekly, while the boiler is in operation and at least every three months if the boiler is idle, by a competent individual."

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the Division of Fire Safety under section 650.215, RSMo 2000, the division adopts a rule as follows:

11 CSR 40-2.030 is adopted.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: The Division of Fire Safety received nine (9) comments on the proposed rule.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated advises section (1) references a non-existent rule number. Instead of 11 CSR 40-2.070 it should state 11 CSR 40-2.065.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Section (1) will be changed to reflect the correct rule, 11 CSR 40-2.065.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated advised subsection (2)(A) incorrectly reference another rule. Mr. Peetz states the correct rule reference is 11 CSR 40-2.022 not 11 CSR 40-2.061. RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Subsection (2)(A) will be changed to reflect the correct rule reference, 11 CSR 40-2.022.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated advised paragraph (2)(B)1. incorrectly referenced another rule. Mr. Peetz states the correct rule reference is 11 CSR 40-2.064 not 11 CSR 40-2.054. RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Paragraph (2)(B)1. will be changed to reflect the correct rule reference, 11 CSR 40-2.064.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated recommends paragraph (2)(B)1. text relating to National Board Inspection Code should be abbreviated "NBIC."

RESPONSE: Paragraph (2)(B)1. will remain as is. This is a format issue addressed by Administrative Rules Division.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated recommends paragraph (2)(B)1. text relating to code reference be abbreviated consistent with ASME as defined in section 11 CSR 40-2.010.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Paragraph (2)(B)1. will remain as is concerning Mr. Peetz's comment due to format requirements by Administrative Rules Division, however, the term "objects" will be changed to read, "Boilers manufactured to a standard other than the ASME Code shall be evaluated in accordance with the "state special requirements" of 11 CSR 40-2.064."

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated suggests a revision to subparagraph (4)(A) 1.G. with a text revision to indicate that a higher pressure can be used.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Subparagraph (4)(A)1.G. will be changed to reflect the tests be in accordance with the American Society of Mechanical Engineers Code Section I.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated does not believe controls can be altered without voiding the UL or other label. Mr. Peetz recommends the text in subsection (5)(A) be revised to the following: ". . . except that any replacements or repairs to the controls RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Subsection (5)(A) is being changed to remove alterations and replace with modification or replacements.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated recommends revising the last two lines of subsection (5)(F) to read: ". . . 18" on all sides of the boiler except forty-eight inches (48") on the burner end. The minimum clearance above the boiler shall be forty-eight inches (48")."

RESPONSE: Subsection (5)(F) will remain as is.

COMMENT: Mitchel Whisman with Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company indicates that subsection (2)(B) deals with the extensions of a thirty (30)-year service life for non-standard objects. In all cases, the sections read that the thirty (30)-year life may be extended with the chief inspector's approval. If these proposed rules are adopted, he suggests that whenever a nonstandard object over thirty (30) years old is encountered, the condition be documented on a state report to the chief and it becomes an issue between the chief and the object's owner.

RESPONSE: Subsection (2)(B) will remain as is, no action required.

11 CSR 40-2.030 Power Boilers

- (1) As used in this rule, the term "these rules" is intended to mean 11 CSR 40-2.010 through 11 CSR 40-2.065.
- (2) Power Boilers Installed or Contracted for, Prior to November 12, 1986.
- (A) The service life of any boiler of standard construction shall be unlimited provided it meets the inspection requirements of 11 CSR 40-2.022.
- (B) The service life of any nonstandard boiler shall be thirty (30) years. The thirty (30)-year life may be extended with the chief inspector's approval and compliance with the following requirements:
- 1. The operating pressure cannot exceed the maximum allowable working pressure (MAWP). The boiler MAWP shall be calculated in accordance with American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) Section I Code or the requirements of the original Code of construction. Boilers manufactured to a standard other than the ASME Code shall be evaluated in accordance with the "state special" requirements of 11 CSR 40-2.064. The allowable stress shall be no greater than twenty-two percent (22%) of the tensile strength of the material. If the tensile strength is unknown, an allowable stress of twelve thousand pounds per square inch (12,000 psi) shall be used. The joint efficiency shall be in accordance with the appropriate edition and addenda of the ASME Section I Code or the National Board Inspection Code (NBIC).

- 2. Biennial pressure test shall be performed at or above normal operating pressure, not to exceed the MAWP of the boiler. The pressure test shall be held for at least thirty (30) minutes and documented to the satisfaction of the inspector. The inspector need not witness the test. If the boiler exhibits any leaks, the boiler shall be repaired prior to restoring it to service:
- 3. All safety devices and controls required by the ASME Section I Code and these rules shall be installed and operable.
- (4) Boiler external piping (BEP) shall be designed, fabricated, and installed in accordance with the ASME Section I and B31.1 Codes. The piping is considered part of the boiler unit and need not be separately tagged and inspected.
- (A) Installations made, or contracted for, after November 12, 1986 shall meet the requirements of ASME Section I, and B31.1 Codes and these rules for boiler external piping except as follows:
- 1. BEP assembled by bolting, threading, or other mechanical means need not be installed by an ASME certificate holder provided all of the following apply:
- A. The MAWP of the boiler does not exceed one hundred fifty (150) psi: and
- B. The maximum pipe size does not exceed two inches (2") nominal pipe size (NPS): and
- \dot{C} . The maximum operating temperature does not exceed four hundred degrees Fahrenheit (400°F); and
- D. The piping is schedule 80 or greater SA-53 or SA-106 material: and
- E. All valves, flanges, and fittings are American National Standards Insitute (ANSI) class 150 or greater: and
- F. All welding, including attachments and seal welds are by an ASME certificate holder; and
- G. The completed installation is tested in accordance with the American Society of Mechanical Engineers Code Section I.
- (5) General Requirements for Power Boilers.
- (A) Boilers with heat input of 12,500,000 British thermal units per hour (Btu/hr) or less contracted for after January 1, 2004 shall meet the requirements of ASME CSD-1. Single unit boilers with heat input greater than 12,500,000 Btu/hr shall meet the requirements of National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) 85. Existing installations are exempt from these rules except that any modification or replacements to the controls after January 1, 2004 shall meet the requirements for new installations.

Title 11—DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY Division 40—Division of Fire Safety Chapter 2—Boiler and Pressure Vessel Safety Rules

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the Division of Fire Safety under section 650.215, RSMo 2000, the division adopts a rule as follows:

11 CSR 40-2.040 is adopted.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed rule was published in the Missouri Register on November 1, 2002 (27 MoReg 1960–1961). Those sections with changes are reprinted here. This proposed rule becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: The Division of Fire Safety received eight (8) comments on the proposed rule.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated advises section (1) references a non-existent rule number. Instead of 11 CSR 40-2.066 it should state 11 CSR 40-2.065.

COMMENT: Mitchel Whisman with Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company advises section (1) references a non-existent rule number. Instead of 11 CSR 40-2.066 it should state 11 CSR 40-2.065.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Section (1) will be changed to reflect the correct rule, 11 CSR 40-2.065.

COMMENT: Mitchel Whisman with Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company indicates that subsection (2)(B) deals with the extensions of a thirty (30)-year service life for non-standard objects. In all cases, the sections read that the thirty (30)-year life may be extended with the chief inspector's approval. If these proposed rules are adopted, he suggests that whenever a nonstandard object over thirty (30) years old is encountered, the condition be documented on a state report to the chief and it becomes an issue between the chief and the object's owner.

RESPONSE: Subsection (2)(B) will remain as is, no action needed.

COMMENT: Mitchel Whisman with Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company advised that the clearance requirement has been a troubling paragraph in many states particularly in regards to steam jacketed kettles. Manufacturers have been selling self-contained units for use in commercial kitchens. These units are designed with minimal clearance requirements (approx. three inches (3")). He would recommend that the minimum clearance requirements in subsection (4)(E) be removed from the rule and the second sentence should simply state that manufacturer's recommendations shall be followed.

RESPONSE: Subsection (4)(E) will remain as is.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated recommends changing the first and second lines in paragraph (2)(A)2. to read: "All controls and safety devices required by the ASME Section IV Code for heating boilers. . ."

RESPONSE: Paragraph (2)(A)2. will remain as is. This is a format issue addressed by Administrative Rules Division.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated suggests section (4)(E) should be revised to make clearances be the same as for power boilers and read as: ". . . (18") on all sides of the boiler except forty-eight inches (48") on the burner end. The minimum clearance above the boiler shall be forty-eight inches (48")."

RESPONSE: Subsection (4)(E) will remain as is.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated recommends abbreviating National Board Inspection Code in subsection (4)(H) to reflect NBIC.

RESPONSE: Subsection (4)(H) will remain as is. This is a format issue addressed by Administrative Rules Division.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated noted improper rule reference in subsection (4)(I). The correct rule reference should be 11 CSR 40-2.022 not 11 CSR 40-2.060. He also suggested capitalizing National Board in line 6.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Subsection (4)(I) is being changed to reflect the correct rule reference, 11 CSR 40-2.022. National board will be capitalized.

11 CSR 40-2.040 Heating Boiler

- (1) As used in this rule, the term "these rules" is intended to mean 11 CSR 40-2.010 through 11 CSR 40-2.065.
- (4) General Requirements for Heating Boilers, Water Heaters and Jacketed Steam Kettles.
- (I) Rental heating boilers, water heaters and fired jacketed steam kettles, used for temporary service, shall meet all of the requirements of these rules. The internal inspection, required by 11 CSR 40-2.022, may be waived by the inspector, based on documentation that a National Board commissioned inspector has evaluated the internal surfaces of the object within the past twelve (12) months and found the object acceptable for use. An external, in operation inspection shall be the basis for the inspection certificate. The inspection certificate shall expire no later than twenty-four (24) months from the date of the last internal inspection.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: The Division of Fire Safety received seven (7) comments on the proposed rule.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated advises section (1) references a non-existent rule number. Instead of 11 CSR 40-2.066 it should state 11 CSR 40-2.065.

COMMENT: Mitchel Whisman with Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company advises section (1) references a non-existent rule number. Instead of 11 CSR 40-2.066 it should state 11 CSR 40-2.065.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Section (1) will be changed to reflect the correct rule, 11 CSR 40-2.065.

COMMENT: Mitchel Whisman with Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company indicates that subsection (2)(B) deals with the extensions of a thirty (30)-year service life for non-standard objects. In all cases, the sections read that the thirty (30)-year life may be extended with the chief inspector's approval. If these proposed rules are adopted, he suggests that whenever a nonstandard object over thirty (30) years old is encountered, the condition be documented on a state report to the chief and it becomes an issue between the chief and the object's owner.

RESPONSE: Subsection (2)(B) will remain as is, no action needed.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated noted improper rule reference in subsection (2)(A). The correct rule reference should be 11 CSR 40-2.022 not 11 CSR 40-2.061.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Subsection (2)(A) is being changed to reflect the correct rule reference, 11 CSR 40-2.022.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated suggested paragraph (2)(B)1. be revised for consistency to read: "The pressure vessel MAWP shall be calculated in accordance with the ASME Section VIII Code. . . . \H

RESPONSE: Paragraph (2)(B)1. will remain as is. This is a format issue addressed by Administrative Rules Division.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated suggests subparagraph (2)(B)1. H. be revised to only use the abbreviation NBIC. RESPONSE: Subparagraph (2)(B)1.H. will remain as is. This is a format issue addressed by Administrative Rules Division.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated suggests section (4)(D) be revised for consistency purposes to state: ". . .provided for in the NBIC."

RESPONSE: Subsection (4)(D) will remain as is. This is a format issue addressed by Administrative Rules Division.

11 CSR 40-2.050 Pressure Vessels

- (1) As used in this rule, the term "these rules" is intended to mean 11 CSR 40-2.010 through 11 CSR 40-2.065.
- (2) Pressure vessels installed or contracted for, prior to November 12, 1986.
- (A) The service life of any pressure vessel of standard construction shall be unlimited provided it meets the inspection requirement of 11 CSR 40-2.022.

Title 11—DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY Division 40—Division of Fire Safety Chapter 2—Boiler and Pressure Vessel Safety Rules

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

11 CSR 40-2.061 is adopted.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed rule was published in the Missouri Register on November 1, 2002 (27 MoReg 1963). Those sections with changes are reprinted here. This proposed rule becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: The Division of Fire Safety received two (2) comments on the proposed rule.

COMMENT: Mitchel Whisman with Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company noted improper rule reference in subsection (2)(B). The correct rule reference should be 11 CSR 40-2.064 not 11 CSR 40-2.054.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Subsection (2)(B) is being changed to reflect the correct rule reference, 11 CSR 40-2.064.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated suggests for consistency purposes subsection (2)(A) in the third and fifth lines should reflect the abbreviation "ASME."

RESPONSE: Subsection (2)(A) will remain as is. This is a format issue addressed by Administrative Rules Division.

11 CSR 40-2.061 New Installations

- (1) As used in this rule, the term "these rules" is intended to mean 11 CSR 40-2.010 through 11 CSR 40-2.065.
- (2) Minimum construction standards for new boilers, water heaters and pressure vessels contracted for after November 12, 1986.

Title 11—DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY Division 40—Division of Fire Safety Chapter 2—Boiler and Pressure Vessel Safety Rules

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the Division of Fire Safety under section 650.215, RSMo 2000, the division adopts a rule as follows:

11 CSR 40-2.062 is adopted.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed rule was published in the Missouri Register on November 1, 2002 (27 MoReg 1963). Those sections with changes are reprinted here. This proposed rule becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: The Division of Fire Safety received two (2) comments on the proposed rule.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated suggests for consistency subsections (1)(B) and (1)(D) only use abbreviations, ASME and NBIC.

RESPONSE: Subsections (1)(B) and (1)(D) will remain as is. This is a format issue addressed by Administrative Rules Division.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated suggests for consistency subsections (2)(C) and (2)(D) to change the requirement that the state has to inspect all reinstalled boilers and pressure vessels. This is not practical. The chief inspector, he believes can mandate this anyway but due to personnel shortages, and lack of notice to the state it will be tough to enforce. Mr. Peetz proposes the following: (C) A certificate inspection shall be performed by an inspector, prior to the operation and reported to the chief inspector on forms acceptable to the state. (D) All welded repairs or alterations shall have been in accordance with the NBIC.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Subsection (2)(D) will remain as is, this is a format issue addressed by Administrative Rules Division. Subsections (1)(C) and (2)(C) will be changed to read: "A certificate inspection shall be performed by the chief inspector or his designee prior to operation."

11 CSR 40-2.062 Second-Hand and Reinstalled Used Boilers, Water Heaters and Pressure Vessels

- (1) Minimum Requirements for Second-Hand Boilers, Water Heaters and Pressure Vessels.
- (C) A certificate inspection shall be performed by the chief inspector or his/her designee prior to operation.
- (2) Minimum Requirements for Reinstalled Boilers, Water Heaters and Pressure Vessels.
- (C) A certificate inspection shall be performed by the chief inspector or his/her designee prior to operation.

Title 11—DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY Division 40—Division of Fire Safety Chapter 2—Boiler and Pressure Vessel Safety Rules

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the Division of Fire Safety under section 650.215, RSMo 2000, the division adopts a rule as follows:

11 CSR 40-2.064 is adopted.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed rule was published in the Missouri Register on November 1, 2002 (27 MoReg 1963–1964). Those sections with changes are reprinted here. This proposed rule becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: The Division of Fire Safety received two (2) comments on the proposed rule.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated noted improper rule reference in section (2). The correct rule reference should be 11 CSR 40-2.064(1) not 11 CSR 40-2.065(1).

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Section (2) is being changed to reflect the correct rule reference, 11 CSR 40-2.064(1).

COMMENT: Mitchel Whisman with Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Company noted that the incorrect rule is referenced in section (2). The correct rule reference should be 11 CSR 40-2.064(1) not 11 CSR 40-2.065(1). Mr. Whisman believes that the proposed rule oversteps the authority that has been granted to the board. By that he means that he does not believe the board has the authority to write a rule that allows the chief inspector at his sole discretion to grant a variance from legislative action and/or a duly enacted rule. This is analogous to the Department of Transportation telling the chief of police that he can grant variances in the enforcement of motor vehicle laws. The "Boiler and Pressure Vessel Safety Act" (650.200 to 650.290, RSMo) authorizes the board of boiler rules to formulate definitions, rules and regulations. It also sets forth the powers and duties of the chief inspector but does not have a provision that allows the chief inspector to grant variances. In fact, the safety act (650.220, RSMo) leaves that authority in the hands of the board. No offense to the current chief inspector, but giving this authority to one person with no built-in checks and balances seems like asking for trouble. I think the board of boiler rules, which has the authority under the act to formulate the rules and regulations, should be the entity that has the power to waive those rules and regulations on a case-by-case basis. In our democratic society, I do not believe that the board has the authority to waive the requirements of the act.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Section (2) is being changed to reflect the correct rule reference, 11 CSR 40-2.064(1), and text is being changed to differentiate a time extension authorized by the chief inspector and a variance reviewed by the board.

11 CSR 40-2.064 State Special and Variances

(2) Any variance to the Act and these rules other than described in 11 CSR 40-2.064(1) shall be approved by the board except that a time extension for the inspection required in 11 CSR 40-2.022(3)(C)4., (4)(A) and (5)(A) may be approved by the chief inspector. The owner or user must submit a written request for a variance to the chief inspector indicating why the variance or time extension is necessary.

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the Division of Fire Safety under section 650.215, RSMo 2000, the division adopts a rule as follows:

11 CSR 40-2.065 Repairs/Alterations is adopted.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed rule was published in the Missouri Register on November 1, 2002 (27 MoReg 1964). No changes have been made to the text of the rule, so it is not reprinted here. This proposed rule becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: The Division of Fire Safety received one (1) comment on the proposed rule.

COMMENT: Darryl Peetz with Arise Incorporated suggests for consistency subsections (1)(A) and (1)(B) should contain abbreviations for National Board Inspection Code and American Petroleum Institute RESPONSE: Subsections (1)(A) and (1)(B) will remain. This is a format issue addressed by Administrative Rules Division.

Title 12—DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE Division 10—Director of Revenue Chapter 110—Sales/Use Tax—Exemptions

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the director of revenue under section 144.270, RSMo 2000, the director withdraws an amendment as follows:

12 CSR 10-110.600 Electrical Energy is withdrawn.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed amendment was published in the Missouri Register on November 15, 2002 (27 MoReg 2064). This proposed amendment is withdrawn.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: During the final stages of the rule-making process, issues related to the subject matter of this proposed amendment came to the department's attention in a taxpayer audit. This proposed amendment is being withdrawn to conduct the additional research and rewording required to clarify the interaction between the definitions of recovered materials and supplies.

The department received a number of comments on its proposed regulations 12 CSR 10-110.600, 12 CSR 10-111.010 and 12 CSR 10-111.060. These regulations were revised and proposed simultaneously because there are a number of common concepts applicable to each regulation.

The department received fifteen (15) comment letters from thirteen (13) different commenters. Many of the commenters made similar comments, in many cases using identical language. Therefore, rather than attempting to address each comment individually, the department will respond to all similar comments at the same time, noting when appropriate any unique comments that were presented.

COMMENT: Many commenters evidenced a misunderstanding of the nature and intent of these regulations. Contrary to several comments, the department cannot legislate through rulemaking.

RESPONSE: The department has no authority to broaden or narrow the express terms of the statute, BridgeData Co. v. Director of Revenue, 794 S.W.2d 204, 207 (Mo. banc 1990). However, taxpayers often present questions that are not addressed by a statute's express terms. On those occasions, the department must use its best judgment, based on statutory language and context, case law, experience and logic, to interpret the statute and answer those questions. The Director of Revenue is charged by the Constitution with administering the tax laws (Missouri Constitution Article IV, section 22; see also section 144.270, RSMo). A necessary part of such administration is interpreting such laws. The purpose of these regulations is to set forth the department's interpretations of these statutes.

As with any departmental interpretation, taxpayers have the right to disagree and to appeal any departmental decision affecting them to the Administrative Hearing Commission and, if necessary, the Supreme Court. The Court is the final judge of a statute's meaning. See St. Louis County v. State Tax Commission, 562 S.W.2d 334, 337-38 (Mo. banc 1978). The department's regulations are the department's primary means of communicating to taxpayers the department's interpretations of statute. They cannot and are not intended to limit in any way a taxpayer's right to assert opposing interpretations in their dealings with the department.

In interpreting exemptions from tax, the department must construe the exemption narrowly. Lincoln Industrial, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 51 S.W.3d 462, 465 (Mo. banc 2001). Given a choice between two reasonable interpretations, the department is required to adopt the one that reasonably limits the exemption rather than an alternative that expands availability of the exemption.

COMMENT: Several commenters stated that the fiscal notes attached to these regulations, which stated that costs to private parties were less than five hundred dollars ($500), were inaccurate.

RESPONSE: These comments were based on the difference in tax due if the commenters' interpretation of the statute were correct rather than the department's interpretation. As the discussion above demonstrates, this comment is based on a misunderstanding of the effect and intent of these regulations.

The tax the department will assert to be due on a given set of facts will be the same whether or not these regulations take effect, because the department's position necessarily will be based on the department's interpretation of the applicable statute. That interpretation will be the same even if no regulations were proposed or promulgated. The regulation is merely the mechanism for the department to communicate its position to taxpayers in advance so that they can make appropriate plans to comply or to challenge the department's interpretation through statutorily prescribed procedures. Therefore, promulgation of these regulations will have little or no financial impact on taxpayers. If anything, they reduce the financial impact on taxpayers because they give taxpayers advance notice of the department's interpretation and allow them to consider that in their business planning.

COMMENT: A final general comment: A number of comments related to substantive provisions of these rules and also mentioned examples included in the rules to demonstrate the practical applicability of the substantive provisions.

RESPONSE: These responses will not address the specific examples except as necessary to make the response complete.

COMMENT: One (1) comment raised the same objection to the definition of "recovered materials," 12 CSR 10-110.600(2)(K), as was raised regarding 12 CSR 10-111.060(2)(C) in the prior regulation. RESPONSE: These provisions of the regulation were designed to address specific factual situations presented by a tax consultant. This consultant contends that any manufacturer that uses any portion of its raw materials in any secondary process is an MRPP. The following examples demonstrate the difficulties with this position.

A jewelry manufacturer begins with a gold ingot. It melts the gold into molds. A certain amount of the gold is not used in the first process due to finishing, errors, etc. The manufacturer collects the "scrap" and remelts it to make additional jewelry. Due to the high cost of gold, the manufacturer makes every effort never to discard any gold. While it can be said that the gold would go into the garbage if the manufacturer did not remelt it, the truth is that the manufacturer never intended to discard the gold.

A more homespun example will illustrate the problem to anyone who has ever helped bake Christmas cookies. The dough is rolled out and the cookies are cut into various shapes. There is always dough left over due to the irregularity of the shapes. The leftover dough is rerolled and cut into additional cookies. This process goes on until there is no usable dough left. Again, one could say the dough would be discarded if it were not used, but the fact is that would not happen.

In neither case did the user of the raw material intend to discard the "scrap." The leftover materials were not headed for the garbage, they were going to be used until they could not be used any more. These materials were not diverted or removed from the waste stream under any reasonable interpretation of the statutory language because they were never going to the waste stream.

Nevertheless, under the consultant's theory, expressed by several commenters, the jewelry manufacturer and the baker are MRPPs, because they convert "recovered materials." "Recovered materials," however, are only materials that are "diverted or removed from the solid waste stream." Section 260.200(28), RSMo. "Solid waste" is garbage, waste or other discarded items. 12 CSR 10-111.060(2)(D); see section 260.200(34), RSMo. The gold and the dough in the above examples were never going to be discarded. Therefore, they could not be diverted from the solid waste stream.

This regulation is also consistent with interpretations under similar federal laws. The federal authorities count only post consumer waste as recovered materials. See, e.g., 247 CFR section 247.3. By requiring transfer to another party to qualify as a recovered material, the regulation provides an objective test of a taxpayer's intent to discard the material. Absent such intent, the express terms of the exemption do not apply.

Furthermore, as noted in the previous response, it is doubtful the legislature intended to provide a multimillion-dollar exemption for virtually any manufacturer by adding an amendment designed to put an MRPP on an equal footing with manufacturers. Therefore, the department has not made the changes suggested.

COMMENT: Two (2) comments objected to the definition of "recovered materials" in 12 CSR 10-111.060(2)(C), but used examples relating to the electric energy exemption. The commenters objected because the definition would prevent a manufacturer from qualifying for the electric energy exemption based on its use of its raw materials

RESPONSE: The rationale for the definition of "recovered materials" is fully discussed above. There is additional support for the definition in the context of this exemption.

When the Legislature added the recovered materials provisions to the electric energy exemption in 1998, it is doubtful that it was seeking to allow virtually any manufacturer to claim the exemption under the new provisions, eliminating any need for most manufacturers to comply with the carefully limited exemption contained in the original language of section 144.030.2(12). If the Legislature did so intend to expand the exemption at a cost of millions of dollars annually, it could have done so expressly, rather than through addition of a single, undefined term to a provision that had been interpreted extensively by the Supreme Court.

Title 12—DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE Division 10—Director of Revenue Chapter 110—Sales/Use Tax—Exemptions

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the director of revenue under sections 144.270 and 144.705, RSMo 2000, the director withdraws an amendment as follows:

12 CSR 10-110.900 Farm Machinery and Equipment Exemptions is withdrawn.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed amendment was published in the Missouri Register on December 16, 2002 (27 MoReg 2296–2299). This proposed amendment is withdrawn.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: Based on new information regarding the interpretation of the requirement to submit a fiscal impact statement, the department is withdrawing this proposed amendment.

The department received two (2) comment letters on its proposed amendment to regulation $12\ CSR\ 10\text{-}110.900$.

COMMENT: Both comments objected to the department changing the word "supplies" to "lubricants" in 12 CSR 10-110.900(1). RESPONSE: This change is necessary to make the rule conform to the express terms of the statute. The exemption interpreted by this rule is found in section 144.030.2(22), RSMo, which defines farm machinery as "new or used farm tractors and such other new or used farm machinery and equipment and repair or replacement parts thereon and lubricants used exclusively for such farm machinery and equipment " (emphasis added). The prior rule's use of the term supplies rather than the statutory term lubricants was clearly beyond the department's authority and was included in error.

COMMENT: Both comments objected to the change in 12 CSR 10-110.900(3)(F)7. removing the phrase "for nonproduction areas." RESPONSE: This change was necessary to make clear the department's current practice and to conform the rule to a recent Supreme Court decision.

The paragraph in question is one of eight items listed under 12 CSR 10-110.900(3)(F). The introduction to this list states: "The following categories of items are excluded from the meaning of the term farm machinery and farm equipment and are subject to tax." The effect of the provision before amendment was to state the department's understanding that the items included in the list, including the items in paragraph (3)(F) 7., were not exempt. It did not affirmatively state, and was not intended to imply, that the items listed in paragraph (3)(F)7. were exempt if used in production areas.

Paragraph (3)(F)7. lists "Drainage tile, fencing material, building materials, general heating, lighting and ventilation equipment." The department has consistently held these items to be subject to tax. Drainage tile, fencing material and building materials were not considered exempt because they did not fit the definitions of material and equipment. General heating, lighting and ventilation equipment were not considered exempt because they are not used exclusively for agricultural purposes or used directly to produce farm products to be sold, both express requirements of the statute. Section 144.030.2(22), RSMo. The amendment removes any possible confusion over the taxability of these items.

This change is supported by the Supreme Court case that was the primary impetus for this amendment, Lincoln Industrial, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 51 S.W.3d 462 (Mo. banc 2001). In that case, the Supreme Court stated very precise definitions of the terms "machinery" and "equipment." Following that case, the department undertook to amend each regulation that used these terms to conform them to the interpretations adopted by the Court, including this regulation. Those definitions make clear that the items listed in paragraph (3)(F)7. are not exempt machinery and equipment regardless of their use.

COMMENT: One (1) comment objected that the department's statement of purpose—which states that the amendment was designed to provide for more consistent application of department policies—was not specific enough.

RESPONSE: The department is not aware of any standard, either statutory or judicial, governing the specificity of the purpose statement. However, as discussed above, this purpose statement clearly states the reason for the amendment. The motivating factor behind these changes was to make the definitions consistent with Supreme Court precedent and with other rules using the same terms. This is reflected in the current purpose statement. If a reader desires more details, the amendments themselves provide all the specificity possible regarding the nature of the changes. Withdrawing and reissuing the rule would serve no purpose.

COMMENT: Both comments stated that the fiscal note understates the impact of these rules.

RESPONSE: These comments assume a fiscal note cost based on the difference in tax due based on the commenters' interpretation of the statute rather than on the regulation. This is not an appropriate measure of the costs associated with promulgation of this rule.

The department's regulations are the department's primary means of communicating to taxpayers the department's understanding of the statutes as interpreted by the Supreme Court. The tax the department will assert to be due on a given set of facts will be the same whether or not this regulation takes effect, because the department's position necessarily will be based on the department's understanding of the applicable statute. The regulation is merely the mechanism for the department to communicate its position to taxpayers in advance so that they can make appropriate plans to comply or to challenge the department's interpretation through statutorily prescribed procedures.

Of course, taxpayers may not agree with the department and may elect to appeal any departmental decision affecting them to the Administrative Hearing Commission and, if necessary, the Supreme Court. The Court is the final judge of a statute's meaning. See St. Louis County v. State Tax Commission, 562 S.W.2d 334, 337-38 (Mo. banc 1978). This regulation will have no impact on the amount of tax, if any, the Court finds due.

Thus, promulgation of this regulation will have little or no financial impact on taxpayers. If anything, it reduces the financial impact on taxpayers because it gives taxpayers advance notice of the department's position and allows them to consider that in their business planning.

Title 12—DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE Division 10—Director of Revenue Chapter 110—Sales/Use Tax—Machinery and Equipment Exemptions

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the director of revenue under section 144.270, RSMo 2000, the director withdraws an amendment as follows:

12 CSR 10-111.010 Manufacturing Machinery and Equipment Exemptions is withdrawn.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed amendment was published in the Missouri Register on November 15, 2002 (27 MoReg 2065–2068). This proposed amendment is withdrawn

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: Due to a ruling from the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules this proposed amendment is being withdrawn.

The department received a number of comments on its proposed regulations 12 CSR 10-111.060, 12 CSR 10-111.010 and 12 CSR 10-110.600. These regulations were revised and proposed simultaneously because there are a number of common concepts applicable to each regulation.

Therefore, rather than attempting to address each comment individually, the department will respond to all similar comments at the same time, noting when appropriate any unique comments that were presented.

COMMENT: Many commenters evidenced a misunderstanding of the nature and intent of these regulations. Contrary to several comments, the department cannot legislate through rulemaking.

RESPONSE: The department has no authority to broaden or narrow the express terms of the statute, BridgeData Co. v. Director of Revenue, 794 S.W.2d 204, 207 (Mo. banc 1990). However, taxpayers often present questions that are not addressed by a statute's express terms. On those occasions, the department must use its best judgment, based on statutory language and context, case law, experience and logic, to interpret the statute and answer those questions. The Director of Revenue is charged by the Constitution with administering the tax laws (Missouri Constitution Article IV, section 22; see also section 144.270, RSMo). A necessary part of such administration is interpreting such laws. The purpose of these regulations is to set forth the department's interpretations of these statutes.

As with any departmental interpretation, taxpayers have the right to disagree and to appeal any departmental decision affecting them to the Administrative Hearing Commission and, if necessary, the Supreme Court. Given a choice between two reasonable interpretations, the department is required to adopt the one that reasonably limits the exemption rather than an alternative that expands availability of the exemption.

COMMENT: Several commenters stated that the fiscal notes attached to these regulations, which stated that costs to private parties were less than five hundred dollars ($500), were inaccurate.

RESPONSE: These comments were based on the difference in tax due if the commenters' interpretation of the statute were correct rather than the department's interpretation. As the discussion above demonstrates, this comment is based on a misunderstanding of the effect and intent of these regulations.

The tax the department will assert to be due on a given set of facts will be the same whether or not these regulations take effect, because the department's position necessarily will be based on the department's interpretation of the applicable statute. That interpretation will be the same even if no regulations were proposed or promulgated. COMMENT: A final general comment: A number of comments related to substantive provisions of these rules and also mentioned examples included in the rules to demonstrate the practical applicability of the substantive provisions.

RESPONSE: These responses will not address the specific examples except as necessary to make the response complete.

COMMENT: Several comments objected to the portion of the definition of a material recovery processing plant that limits the definition to "the original conversion of recovered materials." 12 CSR 10-111.060(2)(A).

RESPONSE: The material recovery processing plant (MRPP) exemption is contained in the same statutory provision as the manufacturing machinery and equipment exemption, section 144.030.2(4), RSMo. The MRPP exemption was added in 1995. Prior to that amendment, an MRPP was not entitled to buy its machinery and equipment exempt from tax because the Supreme Court had held that material recovery was not manufacturing. AMF Inc. v. Spradling, 518 S.W.2d 58 (Mo. banc 1974). Thus, the amendment was designed to allow an MRPP the same exemptions as a manufacturer.

The language used to exempt MRPP machinery and equipment is virtually identical to the manufacturing exemption, except for one word. The manufacturing exemption exempts not only machinery and equipment, but also "materials and supplies solely required for the installation or construction" of the machinery and equipment. Section 144.030.2(4), RSMo. The MRPP exemption exempts "materials and supplies required solely for the operation, installation or construction" of the machinery and equipment. Id. (emphasis added). Id. Some consultants are attempting to transform companies that readily qualify for the manufacturing exemption into MRPPs so that they can obtain refunds for purchases of materials and supplies used for operation—especially fuel (see discussion above)—exempt from tax, even though they would not be able to do so as a manufacturing

In order to do this, they want anyone who uses any material that has been recovered at any time to qualify as an MRPP. The statute requires that an entity "convert recovered materials into a new product, or a different form which is used in producing a new product" in order to qualify as an MRPP. Id. The regulation follows that definition, but does not allow someone who subsequently uses the converted product to qualify as an MRPP.

A factual scenario will help to explain this issue. If a manufacturer delivers its scrap plastic to Company A to make plastic tubing, Company A is an MRPP. Under the regulation, no subsequent purchaser of the plastic tubing would be an MRPP. The commenters would have the exemption continue indefinitely: If Company A sells its converted product to Company B to make a component, which is then sold to Company C to make a larger component, which is then sold to Company D, and so on, the commenters suggest that each of them—no matter how far removed from the original recovery of materials—would be an MRPP entitled to purchase operational materials and supplies exempt from tax—an exemption not available to manufacturers. The timing of the amendment and the relative insignificance of the language change do not support expansion of this exemption to cost the state millions of dollars annually.

COMMENT: A number of comments objected to the definition of "recovered materials," 12 CSR 10-111.060(2)(C), because it requires transfer of the materials to a third party before a material will be considered to be recovered.

RESPONSE: These provisions of the regulation were designed to address specific factual situations presented by a tax consultant. This consultant contends that any manufacturer that uses any portion of its raw materials in any secondary process is an MRPP. The following examples demonstrate the difficulties with this position.

A jewelry manufacturer begins with a gold ingot. It melts the gold into molds. A certain amount of the gold is not used in the first process due to finishing, errors, etc. The manufacturer collects the "scrap" and remelts it to make additional jewelry. Due to the high cost of gold, the manufacturer makes every effort never to discard any gold. While it can be said that the gold would go into the garbage if the manufacturer did not remelt it, the truth is that the manufacturer never intended to discard the gold.

A more homespun example will illustrate the problem to anyone who has ever helped bake Christmas cookies. The dough is rolled out and the cookies are cut into various shapes. There is always dough left over due to the irregularity of the shapes. The leftover dough is rerolled and cut into additional cookies. This process goes on until there is no usable dough left. Again, one could say the dough would be discarded if it were not used, but the fact is that would not happen.

In neither case did the user of the raw material intend to discard the "scrap." The leftover materials were not headed for the garbage, they were going to be used until they could not be used any more. These materials were not diverted or removed from the waste stream under any reasonable interpretation of the statutory language because they were never going to the waste stream.

Nevertheless, under the consultant's theory, expressed by several commenters, the jewelry manufacturer and the baker are MRPPs, because they convert "recovered materials." "Recovered materials," however, are only materials that are "diverted or removed from the solid waste stream." Section 260.200(28), RSMo. "Solid waste" is garbage, waste or other discarded items. 12 CSR 10-111.060(2)(D); see section 260.200(34), RSMo. The gold and the dough in the above examples were never going to be discarded. Therefore, they could not be diverted from the solid waste stream.

This regulation is also consistent with interpretations under similar federal laws. The federal authorities count only post consumer waste as recovered materials. See, e.g., 247 CFR section 247.3. By requiring transfer to another party to qualify as a recovered material, the regulation provides an objective test of a taxpayer's intent to discard the material. Absent such intent, the express terms of the exemption do not apply.

Furthermore, as noted in the previous response, it is doubtful the legislature intended to provide a multimillion-dollar exemption for virtually any manufacturer by adding an amendment designed to put an MRPP on an equal footing with manufacturers. Therefore, the department has not made the changes suggested.

COMMENT: One (1) comment asked why the department added a definition of "solid waste."

RESPONSE: This definition was added to clarify "solid waste stream." See the discussion in the previous comment.

Title 12—DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE Division 10—Director of Revenue Chapter 110—Sales/Use Tax—Machinery and Equipment Exemptions

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the director of revenue under sections 144.270 and 144.705, RSMo 2000, the director withdraws an amendment as follows:

12 CSR 10-111.060 Material Recovery Processing Plant Exemption is withdrawn.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed amendment was published in the Missouri Register on November 15, 2002 (27 MoReg 2068–2069). This proposed amendment is withdrawn.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: During the final stages of the rule-making process, issues related to the subject matter of this proposed amendment came to the department's attention in a taxpayer audit. This proposed amendment is being withdrawn to conduct the additional research and rewording required to clarify the interaction between the definitions of recovered materials and supplies.

The department received a number of comments on its proposed regulations 12 CSR 10-111.060, 12 CSR 10-111.010 and 12 CSR 10-110.600. These regulations were revised and proposed simultaneously because there are a number of common concepts applicable to each regulation.

The department received fifteen (15) comment letters from thirteen (13) different commenters. Many of the commenters made similar comments, in many cases using identical language. Therefore, rather than attempting to address each comment individually, the department will respond to all similar comments at the same time, noting when appropriate any unique comments that were presented.

COMMENT: Many commenters evidenced a misunderstanding of the nature and intent of these regulations. Contrary to several comments, the department cannot legislate through rulemaking.

RESPONSE: The department has no authority to broaden or narrow the express terms of the statute, BridgeData Co. v. Director of Revenue, 794 S.W.2d 204, 207 (Mo. banc 1990). However, taxpayers often present questions that are not addressed by a statute's express terms. On those occasions, the department must use its best judgment, based on statutory language and context, case law, experience and logic, to interpret the statute and answer those questions. The Director of Revenue is charged by the Constitution with administering the tax laws (Missouri Constitution Article IV, section 22; see also section 144.270, RSMo). A necessary part of such administration is interpreting such laws. The purpose of these regulations is to set forth the department's interpretations of these statutes.

As with any departmental interpretation, taxpayers have the right to disagree and to appeal any departmental decision affecting them to the Administrative Hearing Commission and, if necessary, the Supreme Court. The Court is the final judge of a statute's meaning. See St. Louis County v. State Tax Commission, 562 S.W.2d 334, 337-38 (Mo. banc 1978). The department's regulations are the department's primary means of communicating to taxpayers the department's interpretations of statute. They cannot and are not intended to limit in any way a taxpayer's right to assert opposing interpretations in their dealings with the department.

In interpreting exemptions from tax, the department must construe the exemption narrowly. Lincoln Industrial, Inc. v. Director of Revenue, 51 S.W.3d 462, 465 (Mo. banc 2001). Given a choice between two reasonable interpretations, the department is required to adopt the one that reasonably limits the exemption rather than an alternative that expands availability of the exemption.

COMMENT: Several commenters stated that the fiscal notes attached to these regulations, which stated that costs to private parties were less than $500, were inaccurate.

RESPONSE: These comments were based on the difference in tax due if the commenters' interpretation of the statute were correct rather than the department's interpretation. As the discussion above demonstrates, this comment is based on a misunderstanding of the effect and intent of these regulations.

The tax the department will assert to be due on a given set of facts will be the same whether or not these regulations take effect, because the department's position necessarily will be based on the department's interpretation of the applicable statute. That interpretation will be the same even if no regulations were proposed or promulgated. The regulation is merely the mechanism for the department to communicate its position to taxpayers in advance so that they can make appropriate plans to comply or to challenge the department's interpretation through statutorily prescribed procedures. Therefore, promulgation of these regulations will have little or no financial impact on taxpayers. If anything, they reduce the financial impact on taxpayers because they give taxpayers advance notice of the department's interpretation and allow them to consider that in their business planning.

COMMENT: A final general comment: A number of comments related to substantive provisions of these rules and also mentioned examples included in the rules to demonstrate the practical applicability of the substantive provisions.

RESPONSE: These responses will not address the specific examples except as necessary to make the response complete.

COMMENT: Several comments objected to the portion of the definition of a material recovery processing plant that limits the definition to "the original conversion of recovered materials." 12 CSR 10-111.060(2)(A).

RESPONSE: The material recovery processing plant (MRPP) exemption is contained in the same statutory provision as the manufacturing machinery and equipment exemption, section 144.030.2(4), RSMo. The MRPP exemption was added in 1995. Prior to that amendment, an MRPP was not entitled to buy its machinery and equipment exempt from tax because the Supreme Court had held that material recovery was not manufacturing. AMF Inc. v. Spradling, 518 S.W.2d 58 (Mo. banc 1974). Thus, the amendment was designed to allow an MRPP the same exemptions as a manufacturer.

The language used to exempt MRPP machinery and equipment is virtually identical to the manufacturing exemption, except for one word. The manufacturing exemption exempts not only machinery and equipment, but also "materials and supplies solely required for the installation or construction" of the machinery and equipment. Section 144.030.2(4), RSMo. The MRPP exemption exempts "materials and supplies required solely for the operation, installation or construction" of the machinery and equipment. Id. (emphasis added). Id. Some consultants are attempting to transform companies that readily qualify for the manufacturing exemption into MRPPs so that they can obtain refunds for purchases of materials and supplies used for operation—especially fuel (see discussion above)—exempt from tax, even though they would not be able to do so as a manufacturer.

In order to do this, they want anyone who uses any material that has been recovered at any time to qualify as an MRPP. The statute requires that an entity "convert recovered materials into a new product, or a different form which is used in producing a new product" in order to qualify as an MRPP. Id. The regulation follows that definition, but does not allow someone who subsequently uses the converted product to qualify as an MRPP.

A factual scenario will help to explain this issue. If a manufacturer delivers its scrap plastic to Company A to make plastic tubing, Company A is an MRPP. Under the regulation, no subsequent purchaser of the plastic tubing would be an MRPP. The commenters would have the exemption continue indefinitely: If Company A sells its converted product to Company B to make a component, which is then sold to Company C to make a larger component, which is then sold to Company D, and so on, the commenters suggest that each of them—no matter how far removed from the original recovery of materials—would be an MRPP entitled to purchase operational materials and supplies exempt from tax—an exemption not available to manufacturers. The timing of the amendment and the relative insignificance of the language change do not support expansion of this exemption to cost the state millions of dollars annually.

COMMENT: A number of comments objected to the definition of "recovered materials," 12 CSR 10-111.060(2)(C), because it requires transfer of the materials to a third party before a material will be considered to be recovered.

RESPONSE: These provisions of the regulation were designed to address specific factual situations presented by a tax consultant. This consultant contends that any manufacturer that uses any portion of its raw materials in any secondary process is an MRPP. The following examples demonstrate the difficulties with this position.

A jewelry manufacturer begins with a gold ingot. It melts the gold into molds. A certain amount of the gold is not used in the first process due to finishing, errors, etc. The manufacturer collects the "scrap" and remelts it to make additional jewelry. Due to the high cost of gold, the manufacturer makes every effort never to discard any gold. While it can be said that the gold would go into the garbage if the manufacturer did not remelt it, the truth is that the manufacturer never intended to discard the gold.

A more homespun example will illustrate the problem to anyone who has ever helped bake Christmas cookies. The dough is rolled out and the cookies are cut into various shapes. There is always dough left over due to the irregularity of the shapes. The leftover dough is rerolled and cut into additional cookies. This process goes on until there is no usable dough left. Again, one could say the dough would be discarded if it were not used, but the fact is that would not happen.

In neither case did the user of the raw material intend to discard the "scrap." The leftover materials were not headed for the garbage, they were going to be used until they could not be used any more. These materials were not diverted or removed from the waste stream under any reasonable interpretation of the statutory language because they were never going to the waste stream.

Nevertheless, under the consultant's theory, expressed by several commenters, the jewelry manufacturer and the baker are MRPPs, because they convert "recovered materials." "Recovered materials," however, are only materials that are "diverted or removed from the solid waste stream." Section 260.200(28), RSMo. "Solid waste" is garbage, waste or other discarded items. 12 CSR 10-111.060(2)(D); see section 260.200(34), RSMo. The gold and the dough in the above examples were never going to be discarded. Therefore, they could not be diverted from the solid waste stream.

This regulation is also consistent with interpretations under similar federal laws. The federal authorities count only post consumer waste as recovered materials. See, e.g., 247 CFR section 247.3. By requiring transfer to another party to qualify as a recovered material, the regulation provides an objective test of a taxpayer's intent to discard the material. Absent such intent, the express terms of the exemption do not apply.

Furthermore, as noted in the previous response, it is doubtful the legislature intended to provide a multimillion-dollar exemption for virtually any manufacturer by adding an amendment designed to put an MRPP on an equal footing with manufacturers. Therefore, the department has not made the changes suggested.

COMMENT: One (1) comment asked why the department added a definition of "solid waste."

RESPONSE: This definition was added to clarify "solid waste stream." See the discussion in the previous comment.

Title 13—DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SERVICES Division 70—Division of Medical Services Chapter 70—Therapy Program

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the director of the Division of Medical Services under sections 208.153 and 208.201, RSMo 2000, the director adopts a rule as follows:

13 CSR 70-70.010 is adopted.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed rule was published in the Missouri Register on December 2, 2002 (27 MoReg 2215–2216). Those sections with changes are reprinted here. This proposed rule becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: The Division of Medical Services received twenty-three (23) written comments. Division of Medical Services staff commented.

COMMENT: Two families commented that their children born with Down syndrome had benefited greatly from numerous therapies provided through the First Steps Program and they would hate to see families with fewer therapists to choose from if the rates were reduced RESPONSE: The Division of Medical Services does not anticipate that currently enrolled therapy providers will leave the Medicaid therapy program over this four and seven-tenths percent (4.7%) decrease from ten dollars and fifty cents ($10.50) per quarter hour to ten dollars ($10) per quarter hour. The Division of Medical Services does not anticipate that currently enrolled therapy providers that may provide group speech therapy sessions for children will not provide those group speech therapy sessions when the reimbursement rate is reduced from three dollars and fifty cents ($3.50) per quarter hour to three dollars ($3) per quarter hour. Missouri's economic status requires measures to contain cost whenever feasible in order to sustain vital services. Without these minimum adjustments the entire health care program for Missouri's vulnerable citizens is at risk. No changes have been made to the rule as a result of these comments.

COMMENT: Providers of therapy services commented that the result of a fifty cents ($.50) per fifteen (15) minute decrease in reimbursement would force many therapists to abandon the provision of services in the natural environment, especially in a rural setting, or, at the worst, drop out of the First Steps Program. According to the commenters, reimbursement rates to providers for therapy services have not increased in over ten (10) years. The therapy providers suggested that perhaps more attention should be given to authorizing a limited number of units for service provided per week to a child. RESPONSE: The Division of Medical Services does not anticipate that currently enrolled providers will leave the Medicaid therapy program because of a less than five percent (5%) decrease. Missouri's economic status requires measures to contain cost whenever feasible in order to sustain vital services. Reimbursement rates for the provision of service in the natural environment has not been changed. There has been no reduction in the reimbursement rate for provision of services in the natural environment. Without these minimum adjustments the entire health care program for Missouri's vulnerable citizens is at risk. The Division of Medical Services is reviewing the prior authorization option but is not currently in a staffing or contracting position to implement prior authorization of therapy services. No changes have been made to the rule as a result of this comment.

COMMENT: One commenter was concerned that reimbursement for one certain group of health professionals, the therapists, was being arbitrarily cut.

RESPONSE: During the budget process for State Fiscal Years 2003 and 2004, nearly all Medicaid provider groups have been impacted by budget cuts, including nursing homes, hospitals, physicians, dentists, durable medical equipment providers, optical providers, and pharmacies.

COMMENT: An agency which serves the developmentally disabled expressed a concern that the money that the state is saving by cutting reimbursement rates will not make up for having no therapy or durable medical equipment for people who use Medicaid.

RESPONSE: The Division of Medical Services does not anticipate that currently enrolled therapy providers will leave the Medicaid program over a decrease from ten dollars and fifty cents ($10.50) per quarter hour to ten dollars ($10) per quarter hour. No changes have been made to the rule as a result of these comments.

COMMENT: Three public school districts proposed that the Medicaid State Plan "carve out" school districts from the therapy program rate reductions because they would deny available federal revenues to local public schools in Missouri.

RESPONSE: The state of Missouri will propose this change to the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. If the Medicaid State Plan is approved, the state regulation will be amended. No changes have been made to the rule at this time as a result of this comment.

COMMENT: One commenter stated that the rule will have little to no adverse effect on the citizens of Missouri covered by Title XIX. RESPONSE: The Division of Medical Services concurs. No changes have been made to the rule as a result of this comment.

COMMENT: Division of Medical Services staff commented that the wording in section (4) was not clear because some services need a referral while other services need a prescription.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Section (4) will be changed to make clear which Medicaid covered service needs a referral and which Medicaid covered service needs a prescription. This information can also be found in the Medicaid manual which is incorporated by reference into the rule.

13 CSR 70-70.010 Therapy Program

(4) Covered Services. The recipient shall have a referral for speech therapy services from a Medicaid enrolled primary care provider. The recipient shall have a prescription for occupational and physical therapy services from a Medicaid enrolled primary care provider.

By the authority vested in the Highways and Transportation Employees and Highway Patrol Retirement System under section 104.1063, RSMo 2000, the system adopts a rule as follows:

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed rule was published in the Missouri Register on December 2, 2002 (27 MoReg 2219). No changes have been made to the text of the proposed rule, so it is not reprinted here. This proposed rule becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.
